(About 1625-26 to 13 October 1683)
mother of Shubael Gorham
(21 October 1667 to Between 23 September 1748 and 07 August 1750)

(The following was taken from John Howland of the Mayflower Volume I The First Five Generations Documented Descendants through his first child Desire Howland and her husband Captain John Gorham by Elizabeth Pearson White.)

Desire Howland was born in Plymouth, Massachusetts, about 1625 or 1626, the daughter of John and Elizabeth (Tilley) Howland.(1)

Desire and her brother, John, were listed with their parents in the Division of Cattle in Plymouth, 22 May 1627 (old style), 1 June 1627 (new style). John's birth date, 24, 2, 1627 (old style) [24 April 1627], was recorded by Judge Sewall who met John Howland on the road and asked him when he was born. Therefore, Desire must have been the eldest child, born one year or eighteen months earlier than John. Desire died in Barnstable, Massachusetts 13 October 1683.(2)

Desire Howland married in Plymouth, about 1643 John Gorham.(3)

John Gorham was baptized in Benefield, Northamptonshire, England, 28 January 1620/1, the son of Ralph Gorham.(4)

Capt. John Gorham was buried in Swansea, Massachusetts, 5 February 1675/6.(5)

The Northamptonshire branch of the Gorhams are supposed to have descended from Sir Hugh de Gorham and his wife, Margaret, daughter of Sir William l'Angevin. Sir Hugh de Gorham, in 1281, possessed the manor of Churchfield in the parish of Oundle, and land in Benefield which had belonged to his wife's father. More than three hundred years later, the baptism of "John Gorham, son of Ralph Gorham" was entered in the Benefield register.(6)

A John Gorham, perhaps this man, was a passenger on board the Philip, bound for North America, 20 June 1635, with Richard Morgan, master.(7)

A Ralph Gorham was granted land in Plymouth 2 October 1637 for a house and garden. On 5 March 1637/8, he complained against Frances Sprague. A year later, "Ralph Gorham the older" was presented for breaking the peace. On 1 September 1640 he complained against Ralph Smith and on 2 March 1640/1 Smith complained against Ralph Gorham. On 5 April 1640 he sued Tristram Clark and John Crab for debt. He then disappeared from Plymouth records.(8)

On 8 March 1648 Desire's father, John Howland, sold to his "son-in-law, John Gorum," half of the lands in Marshfield that he had bought from Governor William Bradford.(9)

In 1672, Desire's mother, Elizabeth Howland, "wife of Mr. John Howland, deceased, came into court at Plymouth and acknowledged that she freely gave and surrendered rights in the lands of her late husband lying in Namasket in the township of Middleboro to Mr. John Gorum of Barnstable."(10)

The exact date of their marriage is not known but Desire was called "Desire Gorum" in her father's will dated 29 May 1672. Additional proof that Desire Howland married John Gorham was found in a land transaction dated 16 February 1673, in which "John Gorum Senr of barnstable" sold to George Dawson, "now resident at Barnstable," land in Middleboro formerly belonging to John Howland and Elizabeth, his wife, and given to the said John Gorum before John Howland's death. The transaction was witnessed by Joseph Laythorpe and John Thompson, and acknowledged 24 February 1673 before Thomas Hinckley, Assistant. Desire, wife of John Gorum, gave her consent 30 April 1674.(11)

John and Desire Gorham lived in Plymouth after the birth of their first child, Desire, 2 April 1644, and then moved to Marshfield. Their great-grandson, Col. John Gorham, in his "Wast Book," recorded that "John Gorum, alias Gorham - which Son after Hving Married With an Howland and Had Sevrall Children Went home to England and Returned Soone again to his family. . . . Moved From Marshfield to Barnstable and Settled there in ordr to begin a township Called Barnstable. Built Mills - tan fatts &c."(12)

John Gorham's name was on a list of men able to bear arms in Plymouth in 1643. He was chosen constable in Marshfield in 1648. He was made a freeman 4 June 1650 and in 1651 he became a member of the Grand Inquest of Plymouth Colony. He and his family moved to Yarmouth, Massachusetts, in 1652, and then went on to Barnstable where he owned a grist mill and a tannery. He was a surveyor of highways in 1654. As a captain in the militia in King Philip's War, he took part in the Narragansett fight in December 1675, where he was wounded "by having his powder horn Shot and split against his side," He died of the resulting fever and was buried in Swansea 5 February 1676/7.(13)

His widow, Desire, survived him for more than five years, dying after her father, John Howland, but before her mother, Elizabeth Tilley. Desire was mentioned in her father's will in 1672, but not by her mother in 1686.(14)

Desire's husband, Capt. John Gorham, died intestate. On 7 March 1675, Mistress Desire Gorum (sic) and her sons, James Gorum and John Gorum, were named as administrators of the estate. The court appointed "Mr. Hinckley, Mr. Chapman and Mr. Huckins" to take care of the estate of the youngest children until they came of age. The inventory, amounting to L710-4-3, was taken 29 February 1675 and sworn to 7 March 1675. It included the dwelling house, barn, upland, meadow, tan vats, a bark mill, and two houses and tools "belonging to the tanning." In the division of Capt. John Gorham's estate, dated Plymouth 7 March 1676/7, widow Desire Gorham received her dower thirds. Son James received "the dwelling house he now lives in," with the barn and half of the upland. Son John Gorham received the tan vats, bark mill, tools, stock and the other half of the upland. Son Joseph was given forty acres of land next to Joseph Hallet's land, and some meadow. The rest of the estate was divided into five equal parts among the rest of the children, who were named as Jabez, Mercy, Lydia, Hannah and Shubael Gorum. Shubael was allotted £50 for the costs of his education, in addition to receiving his share of the estate. three married daughters, Desire, Temperance and Elizabeth, had already received £40 each. If there should be an overplus, the married daughters were to share equally with the other children, except that James, the eldest son, was to have a double share.(15)

The inventory of Desire's estate was dated 3 August 1683, more than two months before her death, 13 October 1683. On 5 March 1683/4, the Assistants of Plymouth Colony, Gov. Hinckley, Major Bradford, Deputy Gov. Mr. Freeman, Mr. Lothrop and Mr. Thacher, "with the mutual consent of the children then appearing," named as James, John and Joseph Gorham, and with the consent of the sons-in-law, agreed that the eldest son James would receive a double share, according to custom, and the rest of the children, namely John, Joseph, Jabez, Shubael, Desire, Temperance, Elizabeth, deceased,

Mercy, Lydia and Hannah, should have an equal portion. As Elizabeth had died, they agreed that her children, not named, "should have an equal part that did belong to their mother."(16)

Desire Howland report by Sandra Lassen - May 30, 2006

DESIRE HOWLAND, MOTHER OF SHUBAEL GORHAM

In the second paragraph, add a comma between the word "Massachusetts" and the number 13 in the last sentence.

In the third paragraph, add a comma after the year 1673.

Just for clarity, tell what country the parish of Oundle is in and also Benefield. I assume England, but since William was from Angevin, I was not 100% certain.

I believe that ship's names are italicized; therefore, add italics to The Philip.

In the paragraph beginning "A Ralph Gorham," add commas around the date 2 October 1637. Add a comma after the date 1 September 1640. Capitalize Smith. In the last sentence of that paragraph, add a comma after the date 5 April 1640.

Very nice proof for footnote 9, where John Howland names John Gorum (sic) as his son-in-law!

In the paragraph beginning "The exact date of their marriage is not known," you need a comma after the word "known." Farther on in the paragraph, capitals are needed on the words "Barnstable" and "Elizabeth."

The Wast Book is also nice proof of their marriage. Desire was named in her father's will; nice proof of parentage. Desire is named as an administrator of her husband's estate, another good proof of marriage. Also, the children are mentioned. More excellent proofs.

In the paragraph beginning "John Gorham's name," in the third sentence, add a comma after the year 1651; In the next sentence, you don't need a comma after Massachusetts, since the word "in" clarifies. However, in the same sentence, put a comma between Barnstable and the word "where." After the word "Side," you need a period, not a comma.

In your references, the book Genealogical Dictionary of the First Settlers of New England should be in italics.

No problems with proofs in the well-documented file.
